

OUR NEW STORE, Cor. 15th & H, Is Considered the Finest Flower Shop in the Country.

EASTER FLOWERS

—and Plants in
—Greatest Variety
—and Profusion.

WITH unlimited floral supplies, and stores here and in New York city, we are in perfect readiness to handle Easter commissions of every character to your entire satisfaction.

Flowers Shipped to All Points

Steamer and other orders filled at Washington prices by our New York branches.

New York Novelties
—suitable to the season—unique receptacles, baskets and boxes for flowers—found out of New York at Small's exclusively.

J. H. Small & Sons

Washington: New York:
Cor. 15th & H Waldorf-Astoria
Cor. 14th & G 1153 Broadway

BECAUSE
it is so good a whiskey, because it is free
from adulterants,
because thousands
of people, owing to its purity and value,
use it constantly in moderation, there are countless substitutes for Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey.

When you get it see that the trade-mark which is on this and every other advertisement, is also on the bottle. See that it has the full name, Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey See that you get what you want when you ask for it.

At druggists, grocers, and liquor dealers, or direct. $1.00 large bottle.

The Duffy Malt Whiskey Co.,
Rochester, N. Y.

YOU can save yourselves all the bother of getting up an elaborate Sunday dinner and much of the expense—simply by arranging to

Dine Table d'Hote
at the Ebbitt
Tomorrow Night.

These Sunday Evening Menus are very elaborate and served in the White and Gold Room—are most enjoyable.

G. F. Schutt,
Proprietor.

$1.25 Per Plate
including Wine.

Willow
Furniture

Hand-made—distinctive in design—finished in a variety of beautiful colors.

Summer Draperies and Cre-tones. Ship orders to order. Your inspection invited.

WURDEMAN & CO.
INTERIOR DECORATORS & FURNISHERS.
610 12th St. North of Third St.

$10 Invisible Bifocals, $6.50

SPECIAL SALE.

All $2 and $2.50 Nose Glasses, finest optician ground lenses, in gold-filled nosepiece, special.
BIFOCALS (one pair of lenses) Artificial Human Eyes a specialty.
Your glasses repaired and broken lenses duplicated while you wait.

A. KAHN, 935 F St.

CARE IS USED IN PLANS

Flower Worship Carried to Point of a Religion.

MISS SCIDMORE LECTURES

Describes Beautiful Features of the Mikado's Empire.

Minutest Details of Gorgeous Nature
Pictures Are Considered

Essential.

Japanese gardens and gardening from a religious, historical and esthetic standpoint were discussed by Miss L. R. Scidmore before the National Geographic Society at the New Masonic Temple yesterday afternoon and last evening.

The talk was interesting, showing some of the methods and motives influencing this system of gardening that are but little understood in this country. Miss Scidmore resided for many years in Japan, and had access to many of the royal gardens, and an opportunity to study the art as so to get the view of the Japanese themselves so far as the western mind can follow the working of the oriental mind.

Miss Scidmore pointed out that flower worship in Japan was carried to the point of a religion. Gardens there are laid out, not in accordance with a certain style, but following rules as fixed an unchangeable as the essentials in building a cathedral.

The garden is always built first, and the house, which is a secondary matter, is constructed to fit the garden. The only essential in the house is that the seat of honor in the guestroom shall command
a view in a certain direction of the garden. In fact, she gave one instance in which a very satisfactory house, from a western viewpoint, was torn down and replaced because its location did not
please one of the master landscape artists who had been called into consultation by the proprietor.

The fixed rules of gardening were formulated by some of the great masters of Japan in the thirteenth century. The art progressed, and reached a much higher development in the fifteenth century, while
the most lavish expenditure was among the royal patrons of gardening in the sevteenth century.

The speaker had pictures, most of which she had taken herself, showing
some of the most noted gardens of Japan.
Some of them were comparatively small,
but half a dozen pictures of the same garden taken from different points of view would look all radically different, and she showed several views of one of the royal gardens, where she said she had taken dozens of pictures in single morning, and
none of them showing any trace of sameness.

Gives Series of Plans.

One of the interesting features of the
talk was a series of plans for gardens showing how the various types must be constructed. There were the land gardens and the water gardens, the land gardens and the flat gardens, and the water gardens of the size of a billiard table to
acres in extent, but there were immen-sely large plans governing the construction of each type. One type of garden, called the "cave garden," was a certain proportion of water to land, the water must be there occupying a certain position on the horizon. Even the number of islands, the master's island, the guests' island
and the others all joined by the four essential bridges. There must be the cateract free standing beside the water, with a branch stretching in a certain position across the background. There must be the standing on the western horizon, and if
for any reason this tree could not be placed in the line of the sunset, it had to be a brilliant maple whose changing leaves in spring and autumn would simulate the sunset.

Care Taken in Stones.

There were unchangeable rules as to the number and character of the stones
in the garden, and the water courses of Japan had been given over with a fine
tooth comb to find the class of boulders
that would fulfill these requirements.
There were even shops where a specialty
was made of supplying these stones at convenient figures. Even the position of reception with the garden, whether it was large or small, was fixed by chanceless
laws, and what was the appeal to the eye
as an excellent color scheme or landscape arrangement might be utterly condemned
by the Japanese laws of gardening, arrangement and proportion.

Many of the pictures shown were colored, none so brilliant as the conventional idea of Japanese landscape scenes, but some of them very beautiful. There were the wisteria, the pines, the plum blossoms and the flowering cherries, together with the brilliant small-leaved maple, each type having its essential
place in the gardening scheme.

Flowering Cherry Trees.

Miss Scidmore spoke particularly of the flowering cherry, which, she said, was
of the greatest variety, ranging in color from greenish white through yellow to shells pink. This is the type of tree 3,000 of which have been sent by the mayor of Tokio as a personal gift to
Mrs. Taft, and which she is now distributing through the Speedway and Potomac Park, where in three years they should be in full bloom.

J. C. Stiegel of Harrisonburg, Va., has sold his farm of 225 acres at Silverville
for $25,000 and bought Rose Hill, a 424-
acre place in Orange county, for $35,000.
The Stiegel family will move there in a few weeks.

THOSE WHO DESIRE NICE
HAIR MUST TRY THIS.

You Can Double the Beauty of Your Hair in Ten Minutes
With a Little Danderine.

When you see a head of heavy hair, that glistens with beauty and is radiant with life, has an incomparable softness and is fluffy and lustrous, you can at once conclude that this man or woman is using Danderine, because nothing else accomplishes so much for the hair.

Just one application of Knowlton's Danderine will double the beauty of your hair; besides, it immediately destroys and dissolves every particle of dandruff; you cannot have nice, heavy, healthy hair if you have dandruff.
This destructive scrub robs the hair of its luster, its strength and its very life, and if not overcome, produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots tamish, loosen and die;
then the hair falls out fast.

If your hair has been neglected and is thin, faded, dry, scraggy or too short, don't hesitate, but get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine at any drug store or toilet counter; apply a little as directed and ten minutes after you will say this was the best investment you ever made.

Sincerely believe, regardless of everything else advertised, that if you desire soft, lustrous, beautiful hair and lots of it—no dandruff—no itching scalp and no more falling hair—you must use Knowlton's Danderine.
If eventually you try not now? A 25-cent bottle will truly amaze you.

Address by Prof. R. C. Bruce.

Prof. R. C. Bruce, assistant superintendent of the public schools of Washington, will address the Woman's Club at the Second Baptist Church, 50
street between H and I streets northwest, tomorrow afternoon at 3:30
o'clock. The club, which is composed
of more than four hundred colored
women, is engaged in civic
betterment work among the negro residents of the city. A special musical program will be a feature of tomorrow's meeting.

Address by Prof. R. C. Bruce.

Prof. R. C. Bruce, assistant superintendent of the public schools of Wash-
ington, will address the Woman's
Club at the Second Baptist Church, 50
street between H and I streets north-
west, tomorrow afternoon at 3:30
o'clock. The club, which is composed
of more than four hundred colored
women, is engaged in civic
betterment work among the negro residents of the city. A special musical
program will be a feature of tomor-
row's meeting.

Address by Prof. R. C. Bruce.

Prof. R. C. Bruce, assistant superintendent of the public schools of Wash-
ington, will address the Woman's
Club at the Second Baptist Church, 50
street between H and I streets north-
west, tomorrow afternoon at 3:30
o'clock. The club, which is composed
of more than four hundred colored
women, is engaged in civic
betterment work among the negro residents of the city. A special musical
program will be a feature of tomor-
row's meeting.

Address by Prof. R. C. Bruce.

Prof. R. C. Bruce, assistant superintendent of the public schools of Washington, will address the Woman's
Club at the Second Baptist Church, 50
street between H and I streets north-
west, tomorrow afternoon at 3:30
o'clock. The club, which is composed
of more than four hundred colored
women, is engaged in civic
betterment work among the negro residents of the city. A special musical
program will be a feature of tomor-
row's meeting.

Address by Prof. R. C. Bruce.

Prof. R. C. Bruce, assistant superintendent of the public schools of Washington, will address the Woman's
Club at the Second Baptist Church, 50
street between H and I streets north-
west, tomorrow afternoon at 3:30
o'clock. The club, which is composed
of more than four hundred colored
women, is engaged in civic
betterment work among the negro residents of the city. A special musical
program will be a feature of tomor-
row's meeting.

Address by Prof. R. C. Bruce.

Prof. R. C. Bruce, assistant superintendent of the public schools of Washington, will address the Woman's
Club at the Second Baptist Church, 50
street between H and I streets north-
west, tomorrow afternoon at 3:30
o'clock. The club, which is composed
of more than four hundred colored
women, is engaged in civic
betterment work among the negro residents of the city. A special musical
program will be a feature of tomor-
row's meeting.

Address by Prof. R. C. Bruce.

Prof. R. C. Bruce, assistant superintendent of the public schools of Washington, will address the Woman's
Club at the Second Baptist Church, 50
street between H and I streets north-
west, tomorrow afternoon at 3:30
o'clock. The club, which is composed
of more than four hundred colored
women, is engaged in civic
betterment work among the negro residents of the city. A special musical
program will be a feature of tomor-
row's meeting.

Address by Prof. R. C. Bruce.

Prof. R. C. Bruce, assistant superintendent of the public schools of Washington, will address the Woman's
Club at the Second Baptist Church, 50
street between H and I streets north-
west, tomorrow afternoon at 3:30
o'clock. The club, which is composed
of more than four hundred colored
women, is engaged in civic
betterment work among the negro residents of the city. A special musical
program will be a feature of tomor-
row's meeting.

Address by Prof. R. C. Bruce.

Prof. R. C. Bruce, assistant superintendent of the public schools of Washington, will address the Woman's
Club at the Second Baptist Church, 50
street between H and I streets north-
west, tomorrow afternoon at 3:30
o'clock. The club, which is composed
of more than four hundred colored
women, is engaged in civic
betterment work among the negro residents of the city. A special musical
program will be a feature of tomor-
row's meeting.

Address by Prof. R. C. Bruce.

Prof. R. C. Bruce, assistant superintendent of the public schools of Washington, will address the Woman's
Club at the Second Baptist Church, 50
street between H and I streets north-
west, tomorrow afternoon at 3:30
o'clock. The club, which is composed
of more than four hundred colored
women, is engaged in civic
betterment work among the negro residents of the city. A special musical
program will be a feature of tomor-
row's meeting.

Address by Prof. R. C. Bruce.

Prof. R. C. Bruce, assistant superintendent of the public schools of Washington, will address the Woman's
Club at the Second Baptist Church, 50
street between H and I streets north-
west, tomorrow afternoon at 3:30
o'clock. The club, which is composed
of more than four hundred colored
women, is engaged in civic
betterment work among the negro residents of the city. A special musical
program will be a feature of tomor-
row's meeting.

Address by Prof. R. C. Bruce.

Prof. R. C. Bruce, assistant superintendent of the public schools of Washington, will address the Woman's
Club at the Second Baptist Church, 50
street between H and I streets north-
west, tomorrow afternoon at 3:30
o'clock. The club, which is composed
of more than four hundred colored
women, is engaged in civic
betterment work among the negro residents of the city. A special musical
program will be a feature of tomor-
row's meeting.

Address by Prof. R. C. Bruce.

Prof. R. C. Bruce, assistant superintendent of the public schools of Washington, will address the Woman's
Club at the Second Baptist Church, 50
street between H and I streets north-
west, tomorrow afternoon at 3:30
o'clock. The club, which is composed
of more than four hundred colored
women, is engaged in civic
betterment work among the negro residents of the city. A special musical
program will be a feature of tomor-
row's meeting.

Address by Prof. R. C. Bruce.

Prof. R. C. Bruce, assistant superintendent of the public schools of Washington, will address the Woman's
Club at the Second Baptist Church, 50
street between H and I streets north-
west, tomorrow afternoon at 3:30
o'clock. The club, which is composed
of more than four hundred colored
women, is engaged in civic
betterment work among the negro residents of the city. A special musical
program will be a feature of tomor-
row's meeting.

Address by Prof. R. C. Bruce.

Prof. R. C. Bruce, assistant superintendent of the public schools of Washington, will address the Woman's
Club at the Second Baptist Church, 50
street between H and I streets north-
west, tomorrow afternoon at 3:30
o'clock. The club, which is composed
of more than four hundred colored
women, is engaged in civic
betterment work among the negro residents of the city. A special musical
program will be a feature of tomor-
row's meeting.

Address by Prof. R. C. Bruce.

Prof. R. C. Bruce, assistant superintendent of the public schools of Washington, will address the Woman's
Club at the Second Baptist Church, 50
street between H and I streets north-
west, tomorrow afternoon at 3:30
o'clock. The club, which is composed
of more than four hundred colored
women, is engaged in civic
betterment work among the negro residents of the city. A special musical
program will be a feature of tomor-
row's meeting.

Address by Prof. R. C. Bruce.

Prof. R. C. Bruce, assistant superintendent of the public schools of Washington, will address the Woman's
Club at the Second Baptist Church, 50
street between H and I streets north-
west, tomorrow afternoon at 3:30
o'clock. The club, which is composed
of more than four hundred colored
women, is engaged in civic
betterment work among the negro residents of the city. A special musical
program will be a feature of tomor-
row's meeting.

Address by Prof. R. C. Bruce.

Prof. R. C. Bruce, assistant superintendent of the public schools of Washington, will address the Woman's
Club at the Second Baptist Church, 50
street between H and I streets north-
west, tomorrow afternoon at 3:30
o'clock. The club, which is composed
of more than four hundred colored
women, is engaged in civic
betterment work among the negro residents of the city. A special musical
program will be a feature of tomor-
row's meeting.

Address by Prof. R. C. Bruce.

Prof. R. C. Bruce, assistant superintendent of the public schools of Washington, will address the Woman's
Club at the Second Baptist Church, 50
street between H and I streets north-
west, tomorrow afternoon at 3:30
o'clock. The club, which is composed
of more than four hundred colored
women, is engaged in civic
betterment work among the negro residents of the city. A special musical
program will be a feature of tomor-
row's meeting.

Address by Prof. R. C. Bruce.

Prof. R. C. Bruce, assistant superintendent of the public schools of Washington, will address the Woman's
Club at the Second Baptist Church, 50
street between H and I streets north-
west, tomorrow afternoon at 3:30
o'clock. The club, which is composed
of more than four hundred colored
women, is engaged in civic
betterment work among the negro residents of the city. A special musical
program will be a feature of tomor-
row's meeting.

Address by Prof. R. C. Bruce.

Prof. R. C. Bruce, assistant superintendent of the public schools of Washington, will address the Woman's
Club at the Second Baptist Church, 50
street between H and I streets north-
west, tomorrow afternoon at 3:30
o'clock. The club, which is composed
of more than four hundred colored
women, is engaged in civic
betterment work among the negro residents of the city. A special musical
program will be a feature of tomor-
row's meeting.

Address by Prof. R. C. Bruce.

Prof. R. C. Bruce, assistant superintendent of the public schools of Washington, will address the Woman's
Club at the Second Baptist Church, 50
street between H and I streets north-
west, tomorrow afternoon at 3:30
o'clock. The club, which is composed
of more than four hundred colored
women, is engaged in civic
betterment work among the negro residents of the city. A special musical
program will be a feature of tomor-
row's meeting.

Address by Prof. R. C. Bruce.

Prof. R. C. Bruce, assistant superintendent of the public schools of Washington, will address the Woman's
Club at the Second Baptist Church, 50
street between H and I streets north-
west, tomorrow afternoon at 3:30
o'clock. The club, which is composed
of more than four hundred colored
women, is engaged in civic
betterment work among the negro residents of the city. A special musical
program will be a feature of tomor-
row's meeting.

Address by Prof. R. C. Bruce.

Prof. R. C. Bruce, assistant superintendent of the public schools of Washington, will address the Woman's
Club at the Second Baptist Church, 50
street between H and I streets north-
west, tomorrow afternoon at 3:30
o'clock. The club, which is composed
of more than four hundred colored
women, is engaged in civic
betterment work among the negro residents of the city. A special musical
program will be a feature of tomor-
row's meeting.

Address by Prof. R. C. Bruce.

Prof. R. C. Bruce, assistant superintendent of the public schools of Washington, will address the Woman's
Club at the Second Baptist Church, 50
street between H and I streets north-
west, tomorrow afternoon at 3:30
o'clock. The club, which is composed
of more than four hundred colored
women, is engaged in civic
betterment work among the negro residents of the city. A special musical
program will be a feature of tomor-
row's meeting.

Address by Prof. R. C. Bruce.

Prof. R. C. Bruce, assistant superintendent of the public schools of Washington, will address the Woman's
Club at the Second Baptist Church, 50
street between H and I streets north-
west, tomorrow afternoon at 3:30
o'clock. The club, which is composed
of more than four hundred colored
women, is engaged in civic
betterment work among the negro residents of the city. A special musical
program will be a feature of tomor-
row's meeting.

Address by Prof. R. C. Bruce.

Prof. R. C. Bruce, assistant superintendent of the public schools of Washington, will address the Woman's
Club at the Second Baptist Church, 50
street between H and I streets north-
west, tomorrow afternoon at 3:30
o'clock. The club, which is composed
of more than four hundred colored
women, is engaged in civic
betterment work among the negro residents of the city. A special musical
program will be a feature of tomor-
row's meeting.

SHERWOOD PENSION BILL REFLECTED BY SENATE

McCumber Substitute Adopted by 44 to 21, After Seven Hours' Debate.

After being debated for seven hours, the Sherwood pension bill, which has passed the House, was rejected last night in the Senate, and a substitute measure by Senator McCumber was accepted in its place.
The only feature of the Sherwood bill which went through the Senate was the provision for a maximum pension of $30 a month for any soldier or sailor in the civil war who was wounded in the line of duty, who received an honorable discharge and who now live in the United States.
The adoption of the McCumber measure will, it is believed, make a saving of about $20,000,000 in the annual pension expenditures. The payments which, it is estimated, would be necessary under the Sherwood bill would be about $50,000,000 yearly, while under the McCumber bill these payments, it is thought, would be about $27,000,000 annually.

This amount, it is thought, will be further reduced by an amendment offered by Senator Luke Lea of Tennessee, which provides that pensions shall not be paid to persons whose yearly income is $2,000 or more. The McCumber measure was accepted after the Senate had voted down an amendment proposed by Senator Williams of Mississippi denying the benefits of the pension to those with a yearly income in excess of $1,200.

The Sherwood bill was beaten by a vote of 41 to 16, while the McCumber substitute measure went through by a vote of 44 to 21. Those voting against the Sherwood bill were: Chandler, West Virginia; Cullerton, Texas; Foster and Thornton, Louisiana; Hitchcock, Nebraska; Johnson and Smith, Georgia; Johnston, Alabama; Kern and Shively, Indiana; Lea, Tennessee; Manning, New Jersey; Overman and Simmons, North Carolina; Owen, Oklahoma; Percy and Williams, Mississippi; Rayner, Maryland; Swanson, Illinois; Smith, Georgia; and Smith, South Carolina.

House Is Secondary.

The garden is always built first, and the
house, which is a secondary matter, is
constructed to fit the garden. The only
essential in the house is that the seat of
honor in the guestroom shall command
a view in a certain direction of the gar-
den. In fact, she gave one instance in which a very satisfactory house, from a
western viewpoint, was torn down and
replaced because its location did not
please one of the master landscape artists who had been called into consultation by the proprietor.

The fixed rules of gardening were formu-
lated by some of the great masters of Japan
in the thirteenth century. The art pro-
gressed, and reached a much higher de-
velopment in the fifteenth century, while
the most lavish expenditure was among
the royal patrons of gardening in the sevteenth century.

The speaker had pictures, most of
which she had taken herself, showing
some of the most noted gardens of Japan.
Some of them were comparatively small,
but half a dozen pictures of the same garden taken from different points of view
would look all radically different, and she
showed several views of one of the royal
gardens, where she said she had taken
dozens of pictures in single morning, and
none of them showing any trace of sameness.

Gives Series of Plans.

One of the interesting features of the
talk was a series of plans for gardens
showing how the various types must be
constructed. There were the land gardens and the water gardens, the land gar-
dens and the flat gardens, and the water
gardens of the size of a billiard table to
acres in extent, but there were immen-sely large plans governing the construction
of each type. One type of garden, called
the "cave garden," was a certain pro-
portion of water to land, the water must
be there occupying a certain position
on the horizon. Even the number of is-
lands, the master's island, the guests' island
and the others all joined by the four
essential bridges. There must be the cat-
eract free standing beside the water, with
a branch stretching in a certain position
across the background. There must be the
standing on the western horizon, and if
for any reason this tree could not be placed in the line of the sunset, it had
to be a brilliant maple whose changing
leaves in spring and autumn would simu-
late the sunset.

Care Taken in Stones.

There were unchangeable rules as to
the number and character of the stones
in the garden, and the water courses of
Japan had been given over with a fine
tooth comb to find the class of boulders
that would fulfill these requirements.
There were even shops where a specialty
was made of supplying these stones at
convenient figures. Even the position of
reception with the garden, whether it was
large or small, was fixed by chanceless
laws, and what was the appeal to the eye
as an excellent color scheme or landscape
arrangement might be utterly condemned
by the Japanese laws of gardening, arrangement and proportion.

Many of the pictures shown were colored, none so brilliant as the conventional idea of Japanese landscape scenes,
but some of them very beautiful. There
were the wisteria, the pines, the plum
blossoms and the flowering cherries, to-
gether with the brilliant small-leaved
maple, each type having its essential
place in the gardening scheme.

Flowering Cherry Trees.

Miss Scidmore spoke particularly of the
flowering cherry, which, she said, was
of the greatest variety, ranging in color
from greenish white through yellow to
shells pink. This is the type of tree 3,000 of which have been sent by the mayor of Tokio as a personal gift to
Mrs. Taft, and which she is now distributing through the Speedway and Potomac
Park, where in three years they should
be in full bloom.

J. C. Stiegel of Harrisonburg, Va., has
sold his farm of 225 acres at Silverville
for $25,000 and bought Rose Hill, a 424-
acre place in Orange county, for $35,000.
The Stiegel family will move there in a few weeks.

THOSE WHO DESIRE NICE
HAIR MUST TRY THIS.

</